

1 What is claimed is:

2

3 1. A method for halftoning an input image, wherein the output image is 4 comprised of a series of frames, the method comprising the steps of:

5
6 spatially halftoning the input image into at least two frames, having 7 different halftoned patterns; and 8

9 displaying the frames in a sequence.

add al
add ps